Note:

The new page is implemented in the “Orders & Account”. Since I didn’t implement a fully functioning account login / order history page, it directly leads to the order tracking of a specific order. Ideally there should be a lot of other pages with regards to account login, past order history, and order detail, before seeing this page. For the scope of this assignment, those are not implemented.

For the shopping cart, the new item in the cart is separated by item name, item size, and item color. Therefore, the same item with different size / color are presented as different in the cart. Also, the shopping cart can only be viewed in the item detail page. The first 4 items in the browsing page are linked up with the detail page.
